first box is a pop up telling them if any of their challenge partners have recently completed their challenge. Once they awknowledge the challenge completely, the box will not show again

dashboard w/ pages

At the bottom of the things is a div that you can issue a new challenge these boxes denote individual challenges that are still open, I would suggest the user is able to sort them & that the box should say:

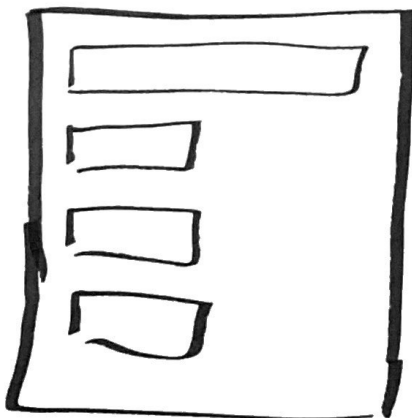

graph?
circle?
bar?
who knows?

how close the partner is how close you are the due date
the person's name
maybe that person's profile pic

Clicking on the challenge box should give a pop up where you can add the exercise

"the challenge page" AKA the homepage

"the pop up

← exercise, when, how many ?
DON'T Think need any else?
For the same exercise this should update everywhere
i.e. ten push ups → update relevant challenges +10 to all

Who issue? or oneself

B. ☐ reoccuring [ ]
B1. [ ] to [ ]
B2. Due every ☐ day
          ☐ week ☐
          ☐ month ☐

You can only issue challenges to 'friends' {prevent creeps} or through
'posts page'
fill in box, will autopopulate or a search box that lists your friends? Dunno

A. when they select a friend, the profile picture shows
WHY?
blc they will be less likely to select the wrong person - humans are better w/ images than words

B. Date Boxes. Autopopulate issue the start with now? Or if reocurring is selected, change to ~~some form set up to take reoccuring~~

D. Challenge Entry Form
When you click the + you can enter an exercise and then amount for you and the other person.
    Ex: I want my husband to do 50 pushups, but me 25.
        "push up"   25   50
    Ex: I want my friend to walk 5 miles and me to do 20 pushups
        "push up   20   0"   this way we can also
        "walk   0   5"   do multiple activities

{can issue challenges to oneself - like a 'goal'}
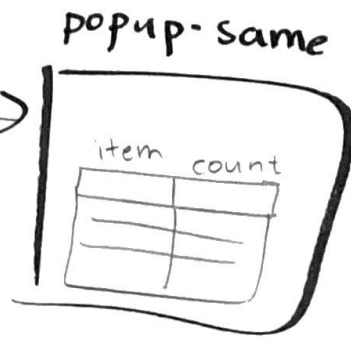

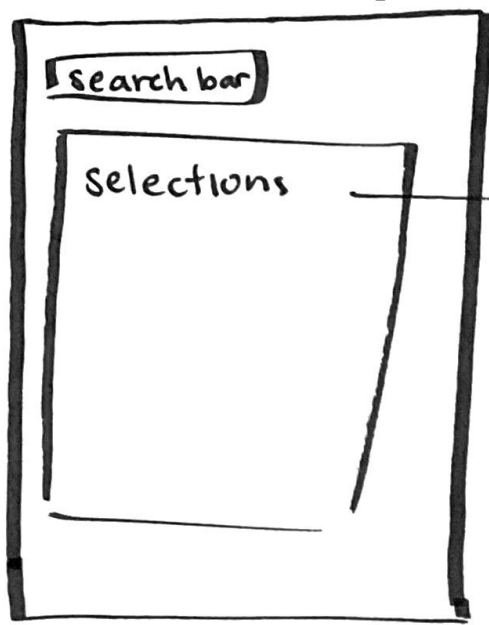

"the issue a challenge" page

Some sort of filter

same ui as the main challenges pages, but when you click on these you can select 'reissue'

you will direct to the issue challenge page with most of the information autopopulated

"the old challenges" page

This is so people can track data for themselves that is not part of a current

"Data Analytics Page"
Since this only requires user data and they do not need to interact → I suggest we do this later. It will probably just be graphs.
